

PLANE MUSEUM

ALASKALAND
PIONEER
AIR
MUSEUM

You will Journey

Through Time . . .

soar through Alaska's rich aviation heritage. Explore authentic . . .

- Exhibits and
- Photographs

Past & modern aviation.

Photo display of Military war planes . . . including this 1944 P51A with retractable winter skis.

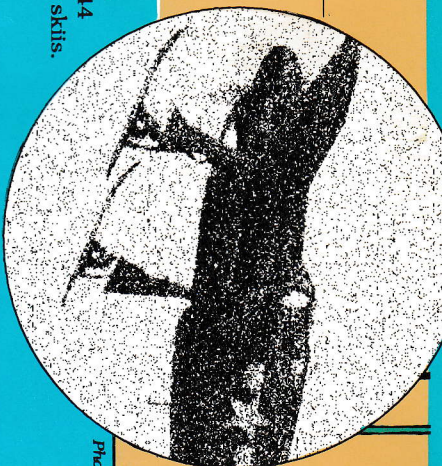

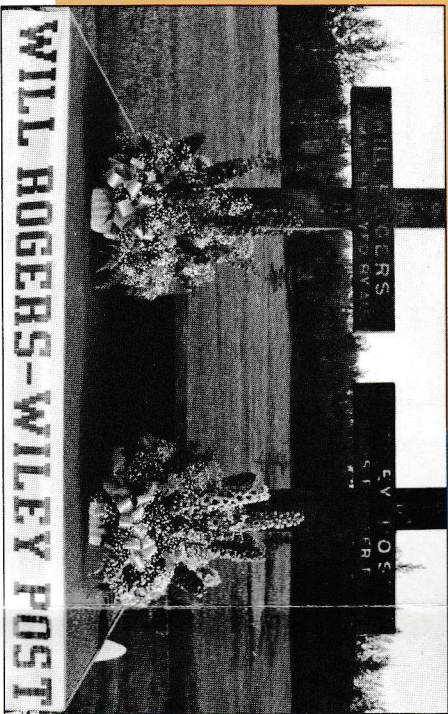

Photo by U.S. Army Air Corps, Ladd Field

Visit the Alaskaland Gold Dome and set your sights for an extraordinary experience into Alaskan Aeronautical history.

The museum has preserved these strap steel crosses to remind us of the 1935 Barrow, Alaska crash which took the lives of Will Rogers and Wiley Post.

Authentic open cockpit Duce #2. Custom built by Preston Fowler

GOLD DOME in Alaskaland!

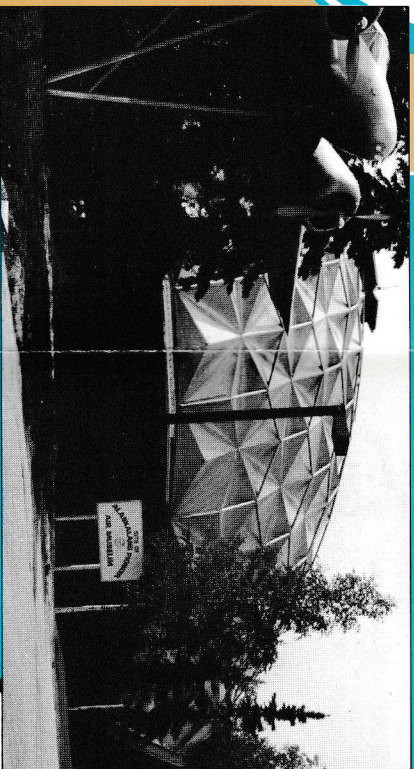

"Visions of the future tempered by the realities of today, and seasoned with the memories of the past."

Capt. George C. Clayton

Rare antique aircraft piloted by leading Alaskan individuals.

DONATIONS:

All proceeds go to preservation of the Alaskaland Pioneer Air Museum sponsored by Interior & Arctic Alaska Aeronautical Foundation to benefit individuals on Alaskan aviation history.

The Gold Dome houses artifacts and authentic aircraft from Alaska's strong aviation history.

